Most Large tents will require a Temporary Structure Permit to be filed through the local building and fire departments.

In addition to the permit, Fire departments require by law that certain safety items be included in the tent. We have conveniently bundled these items together into our "Safety Compliance Kits" which include:

- Lighted Emergency Exit Sign
- Fire Extinguisher with Sign
- "No Smoking" Signs

(The quantity of items in our kits depend on the size of the tent)

Visit our website for a copy of the fire code

We maintain good working relationships with all local fire and building departments.

Evaporative Coolers are an affordable compromise between fans and traditional air conditioning.

How they work:

The Evaporative Cooler is filled automatically through a garden hose hookup on the back. The water is then wicked up by absorbent panels on the sides of the machine. Fresh air is pulled into the unit and through the moistened panels. The moist cool air is then pushed out by a high powered fan
